degree natural & proper that, seeing such a revelation of the practical workings of Obelin on the Anti-Slavery cause an inquiry & hypothetical remonstrance should go from you to Mr. Keck.
For if the leaders of Obelilin [as they certainly are doing] with all their knowledge of Garrison's high Christian Character, & all their knowledge of the fidelity of the Am. Soc to him & to the truth it was formed to promulgate, ^{thus} are making common cause with

Doctors of Slaneholm ^{divin} ity to throw the Anti-Slavery movement into disrepute & they should be made to feel that they are considered by all true abolitionists in England, as pro-slavery in character.
Whoever, in view of the history of the last 20 years, calls the anti-slavery movement mean, or Society, infidel, does but proclaim himself a slaveholder at heart, sympathizing with wrongs at enmity with right, loving personal interests & success more than the truth of God, keeping the clothes of the murderers

If there were men of force through the Rock, that the effect of their course was to elevate Garrison in the public mind of Anti-Slavery to degrade themselves, & to deprive Oberlin of good men sympathizing, by defeating the very purpose of aid to the cause which they had in subscribing to it. I fear they would probably be frightened into silence.
For there only thing to be in the silence of abolitionists.
Let them know that ^{the} world is a great whispering gallery, & that the basis of their whisper is malignity in the
